Overview

We believe that customers should be enjoying the benefits of working with Invisible Systems monitoring solutions and we are happy to work with our partners in any way which will bring our product to market.

Invisible Systems product is proven to save customers money, with a return on investment, in most cases of less than 18 months.

We offer a flexible partnership based approach with OEM and Consultant customers. We offer our products down to component level with white labeling options available, where appropriate to volume requirements. We will also offer our complete solutions, installation and support structure on a white label basis where an agreement can be made. Our component products are fully supported, have been proven in many different install environments and offer simple and low cost implementation.

Discount structures are well established and are based on a partner turnover model to achieve the higher discounts available.

We are committed to providing the right level of support at the right volumes to our OEM partner and reseller channel.
